There Are Lots Of Weak Top Cars...

IN THE VALLEY OF THE MOON

Well. . . Well. . . Well. . . Have you ever noticed how many cars have weak tops???

Repeatedly we read about those menaces on the highway—the speeder, the drunk, the fellow who follows too closely, the lady who fails to signal, the guy who can't or won't read stop signs, the woman who is colored-blind to signal lights, etc., etc. . . But never do we read about one of the worst drivers, the palooka who drives the car with a weak top. . . It's high time he gets some attention. . .

You know who we mean—the driver who has his left arm out the window, holding up the top of his car, giving you a continuous signal that he's going to turn to the right. . . Then, when you try to pass him, he suddenly decides to turn left, without any change of signal... see, he's so darned busy holding up that top of his car, he has no hand remaining with which to flash his signal lights. . .

This guy is realy a hazard. . . He has no business to be driving on a busy highway, any highway for that matter, with only one hand on the wheel. . . That arm held in perpetual signal for a right turn, is a pain-in-the-neck to the driver behind him. . . There ought to be a law. . .

Thank you,

The Publisher
